

The Lady-Bird.

(MARIENWÜRMCHEN.)

UNISON SONG.

Words from the German by MARY BEADFORD WHITING.

Arranged by JOHANNES BRAHMS.

LONDON: NOVELLO AND COMPANY, LIMITED

Andante. Gently.

1 O La - dy - bird, so small, so fair, Come on my hand, come on my
 2 O pret - ty La - dy - bird, fly now Un - to my friend, un - to my
 3 O La - dy - bird, haste, fly a - way! See, thy house burns, thy chil - dren

Doh = F.
 { s, : s, s, | d : - d | r : - r | m : - | m : f m | m : r | r : m r }

Andante.
p dolce.

hand, And I will nev - er hurt thee, And I will nev - er fright - en thee; Thy pretty friend, And he will nev - er hurt thee, And he will nev - er fright - en thee; Thy pretty call, Dost not thou hear them cry - ing? O sore - ly, sad - ly do they weep, The wicked

{ | r : d | d : r m | f : - | r : - | t, : d | d : d m | s : - s | s : - m | d : - | d : d m }

wings I want to see, Thy bright wings, thy bright wings please me ev - er!
 wings he wants to see, We greet thee, we both will greet thee ev - er!
 spi - der round thee spins, So fly then! a - way then now go fly - ing.

{ | f : - f | f : r | t, : - | : r f | m : d | : r f | m : d | f : - r | t, : d | . || }